

Why is Female Education and Labor Force Participation Crucial to a Country's Development?

This dashboard of socioeconomic indicators in Bangladesh from 1995 to 2019 illustrates why gender development is essential not only for equality, but for the overall advancement of a country. An increase in female literacy leads to lower birth rates, death rates, fertility rates and closes the gap in female-male employment rate.

Female Literacy Rate in Relation to Vulnerability Measures

Distribution of Female Employment by Job Sector

